

Testimonials on Brett Morgan

"When I hired Brett, I saw a young man that had a lot of passion for coaching. I first observed him at a coaching clinic and he was very impressive. He's very organized and well-prepared, and his personnel skills are excellent as well."

John Hufnagel, General Manager, Calgary Stampeders (CFL)

Former Offensive Coordinator, NY Giants (NFL)

Former Super Bowl Winning QB Coach, New England Patriots (NFL)

"I first met Brett at our free agent camp and I was very impressed with his knowledge. He took the initiative to come to Canada when I was the Offensive Coordinator and he was an Offensive Assistant. He would break down opponents and he did a really nice job. He's football smart, and the guys respected him. He really knows technique and understands scheme. Most young guys either know the OLine/Run Game or Offensive Skill/Pass Game, but he really excels at both. His demeanor is not overbearing. He's confident enough to let you know his thoughts, but doesn't let his feelings get hurt if you don't take his idea."

Dave Dickenson, Head Coach, Calgary Stampeders (CFL)

Former QB, San Diego Chargers, Miami Dolphins, Seattle Seahawks, Detroit Lions (NFL)

10 year CFL Veteran

"I've been fortunate to work with Coach Morgan in Calgary, he's been a tremendous help to all of the QBs and WRs. I've learned a ton from him and we constantly talk ball and bounce ideas off one another, where he does an incredible job in the film room. I believe he has a strong sense of timing and spacing in the passing game and really knows how to attack efficiently in that area. I know he has worked with some really credible people in this business and I see him being highly successful moving forward."

Drew Tate, QB, Calgary Stampeders (CFL)
Former QB, St. Louis Rams (NFL)

10 year CFL Veteran

"I have been fortunate to work with Brett for 12+ years now as both my coach and personal QB trainer. Brett has three traits that separate him, the first is his intelligence. He has a command of Offensive structure and mechanics that tiers him in the upper echelon of coaches. The second trait is his work ethic. He is relentless in his approach to his job, and clearly stares at his ceiling at night thinking about football. The third trait is his growth mindset. He strives to understand the intent and nuance of both mechanics and scheme, and is open-minded if there is a better way to attack something. Beyond football, Brett is a genuinely good human being who takes an authentic interest in anyone he interacts with."

John Wolford, Current QB, Los Angeles Rams (NFL)

"I came up midway through the season and had the benefit of working very closely with Coach. I had been with the Rams in the NFL early that season and there was absolutely no drop off in the coaching I received from Coach Morgan. His knowledge and ability to comprehend the offense and relate it to a quarterback is second to none. I was most impressed with his ability to coach in practice. He never overwhelmed with information and was concise and to the point, giving me the information I needed. Overall I was very impressed."

Tim Jenkins, Former QB, Calgary Stampeders (CFL)

Former QB, St. Louis Rams (NFL)

"Coach Morgan is a very knowledgeable and dedicated person that has grown as a coach these two years we have worked together. His ability to connect with players and help them learn certain nuances of the offensive playbooks in days, when it usually takes weeks, was the first indication that he has a unique ability to coach."

Kevin Glenn, QB, Calgary Stampeders (CFL)
